About This Content

Having promised to donate all the profits from NotTheNameWeWanted to charity, we've quickly realised that we've got no money left for essentials such as tea, milk, and making the next game.

We thought about Kickstarting, but the prospect of sorting that all out made us want to put a power drill through our own faces. And we thought you deserved more for your hard-earned than a promise of a game we might or might not make sometime if we feel like it unless we change our minds or have a better idea or decide to go to the pub instead.

We've had a surprising and, frankly, inexplicable number of people asking for the game's soundtrack. Luckily, the will has just been read from our Managing Partner's time-travelling grandfather, Spencer NotGames IV, and it turns out that we're gonna release a cracking comedy album in 2030. He left us all the tracks in convenient MP3 format in his attic!!! It's very handy that this turned up from the future, as otherwise we'd have had to write, arrange, record, mix and release an entire album in about four days... And that's not possible, is it?

So, in a nod to the traditional comedy albums of yore by the likes of Monty Python and The Goons, we're killing two birds with one stone and filling both the insatiable public demand and our own empty pockets. It's a proper album. Like the kind Mum and Dad used to listen to back in the day. But digital. And a tenth the price it would be on iTunes. Isn't Steam great?

We're giving you your favourite tracks from the game, improved and extended, and tonnes more stuff, all lovingly mixed with lashings of our questionable sense of humour. And need we mention.... more Kenneth?! It's an hour's laughter for less than a quid (in the only currency that counts). What's not to like?

Buy this thing for LORD KENNETH. BEST. DLC. EVER.. 10/10 spent my money on a jacket potato. Ever just want to smile?. This one's NotCharity for the developers. Buy it.

Happy for not letting them starve and rot in the Thames river.. Better than Devvo.. It's music

11/10

I was here (duh). I always check my jackets now.. I enjoyed the game so It's nice to be able to support the developers :) (Even though there were probably only 200~ people who bought it until now). Better than GTAV

11/10 would buy again

Bought this for a song about Jacket Potatoes

10/10 Jacket Lidl Potatoes. It doesn't go to charity so buy it and support development from NotGames! I really laughed and enjoyed NotGTAV, from every aspect of the game, graphics, musics, voices, even the chapter switch animation ;)

I love this game, which has vein of black humour among British people running through it. Being as a foreigner, I can understand it, that's enough ;). The only DLC worth buying. I hope they can finally buy that Jacket "Lidl" Potato.

Also,

I really wanted a Jacket Potato now.. 8/8 is gr8. Do you think Kenneth sells Jacket Potatoes?????. Best soundtrack for life!

The songs are the memorable tunes from NotGTAV. The money from NotGTAV was donated to charity so they needed to make a DLC/soundtrack to get some income and this soundtrack is GOLD!

Buy it to support the developers or just to enjoy JACKET POTATO or the mysterious BONUS TRACK that has the best cover of the King of Pop!

I rate this 9/10 because of the great idea of the developers and for the GREAT MUSIC!. The perfect garnish for a NotBourbon and NotCoke.
